ALADDIN & THE LAMP

We would never deny the majestic Aladdin Theater's sexy past during the 70's and 80's, holding the record for showing early XXX rated hit "Deep Throat" for nearly 15 years straight, but many would be surprised to learn that the theater was originally a Vaudeville house presenting a wide variety of entertainment beginning in 1927 as Geller's Theater.

The Lamp space has gone through many iterations. After the Aladdin rose from the dust in the early 90's and began offering its current brand of classic Americana, Folk, and Rock and Roll it was Paola's Cafe serving pizza.

Today we are proud to offer the best in Mediterranean, Levantine, & North African cuisine, cooked from scratch, using fresh and local ingredients wherever possible.
